Louisville Historical Museum Now Has Extended Open Hours Museum Open Every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Saturday from 10am to 3pm

LOUISVILLE, CO – February 1, 2012 – Beginning with the 2012 budget year, the Louisville City Council approved funding to extend the open hours of the Louisville Historical Museum. Previously the Museum was open every Wednesday from 10am–3pm and the first Saturday of each month from 10am–3pm. Now the Museum will be open 15 hours each week including every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Saturday. The new hours became effective on January 25, 2012.

According to Bridget Bacon, Museum Coordinator for the Louisville Historical Museum, “Louisville residents have demonstrated for years their support of efforts to preserve and showcase the City’s rich heritage. I am pleased that the City is now in a position to increase funding for Museum operations including more open hours for our residents to visit the Museum, learn about Louisville’s history, and enjoy seeing the photographs and artifacts in the Museum’s collections.”

As part of the Department of Library and Museum Services, access to the Louisville Historical Museum’s website is provided from the Louisville Public Library website homepage.
